

Scott Weber – Business Development Manager – Avient Corporation

Scott Weber is a Business Development Manager at Avient focused on the Transportation Market where he engages with OEM's and key Tier Supplier to collaborate on new molded in color effects and functional performance additives. He began his career in 1988 with Avient Legacy company PMS Consolidated after earning an Associate Degree of Plastics Engineering from Terra Technical College and Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from Ashland University.

Scott initially served as Sales Coordinator and held roles in Account Management, Marketing Manager, and Color Development Lab Manager before assuming his current Business Development Role.

He is also a Certified Lean Six Sigma Black Belt at Avient. Scott values developing relationships with customers and aligning Avient Technologies and Services to support customer needs.